

Still believe that “all translation companies are the same”?

See for yourself
how we compare!

Working languages: 85 (Industry AAA standard)

26 years in business: over 1,570,000 projects rendered

Customer satisfaction rate: 98.6% (as of FY 2015)

Employed translators: over 2,100

Our Company's Strengths

High-precision translations

We choose the best fit for each project from our list of over 2,100 registered translators based on factors such as their native language, area of expertise, and track record.

Four-stage checking system

All projects are checked four times: first by the translator, then by a native speaker of the target language, followed by a Japanese editor, and finally by the project manager.

Up to three times faster than our competitors!

Project size is no concern: our track record includes finishing in 14 days a project that took other companies as many as 45.

Their precision and timely correspondence really seal the deal

Mr. Ogata, Contents Planning Division, Toppan Printing Co., Ltd.

Interbooks does more than just translation—they provide editing and publishing services as well, all at a level of quality unseen anywhere else. I work at a printing company now, but I started out in a publishing department, so I'm well aware of just how strict the editing process for published material is. Moreover, I'm constantly grateful for the coordinators' timely action; they're always a huge help.

Nothing beats contracting with native speakers!

Client from a listed enterprise

Interbooks wasn't the first hit on our Google search for translation companies, but we decided to contact them after seeing their professional website and list of accomplishments. We really felt at ease when we learned about their host of talented native-speaking staff. Recently, we had a rush translation job for a pamphlet to accompany the opening of a memorial hall. Despite the tight deadline, Interbooks promptly took care of it, maintaining a positive and professional attitude even when we came to them with post-proof edits to the original draft. I have nothing but thanks for Interbooks.

The level of quality was astounding

Research worker from an independent administrative institution

Recently, we sent out a trial translation to three companies and chose Interbooks to lead the project based on evaluations of content and pricing. After discussing it with my internal team, we agreed that while their pricing may not have been the cheapest, their quality vastly exceeded that of the other companies. They even included detailed annotations in the English revisions which, personally, taught me a great deal about the process. We will definitely contract with Interbooks again in the future.
